ADVENTURE

The Knights of the Golden Horseshoe, a group of adventurers and explorers of early Virginia, hold a romantic place in history. The daring expedition of these men opened mountain passes and paved the way for western settlement. As a memento of participation in the adventure, each member of the expedition was given a small golden horseshoe.

This year each of us at Madison participated significantly and uniquely in scholastic, athletic, and extra-curricular activities, experiencing countless adventures and exploring exciting fields of learning. With every new discovery and experience our outlook broadened and our goals sharpened. While our adventure lacked the romantic, daring quality of the expedition of the Knights of colonial Virginia, it was nevertheless important, for it impelled the growth and development of ideals, opinions and standards that will guide us throughout life.

The Montpelier staff proudly presents this memento of participation, the 1963 yearbook, to each student of James Madison as his golden horseshoe and record of adventure.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Elton A. Bonner, A.B., M.A.
University of Alabama

PRINCIPAL

Devoted to the idea that James Madison shall provide students with numerous opportunities for a good education, Mr. Bonner works toward this goal with calm assurance and dedicated purpose. Madison's high level of academic excellence is reflected in his sensible approach to student scholarship. Despite James Madison's brief history, Mr. Bonner's untiring efforts have produced a balanced program of general merit and scholastic achievement.

. . . you've seen the world
—The beauty and the wonder and the power,
The shapes of things, their colours, lights and shades,
Changes, surprises, — . . .

As high school students you are seeing the world with all of its changes and surprises. If you are not seeing this world through actual travel, then you are experiencing it through books, lectures, research, classroom discussions, audio-visual aids, laboratory work, field trips, and through your association with other people.

And where but in the United States are there so many opportunities for such adventure — to see the world as it really is? The opportunity to explore all sides of a question, to critically examine an issue, is the sacred privilege of any responsible American.

And where in the United States are there greater opportunities for these adventures in exploration than in such a school as ours near the site of the nation's capital — where the avenues of our land and all the world meet?

Good luck to each of you! May your adventures in exploration never cease, and may your hearts always remain as young as they are now during these exciting days of high school.

ASSISTANT TO PRINCIPAL

The constant changes being brought about in the instruction in today's schools place great responsibility upon administrators to fit new ideas into practical application. County school policies have to be interpreted and explained to teachers so that instruction will be of the quality needed.

With quiet wisdom and a great deal of patience, Mr. Dozier works diligently to keep the school standards of instruction high and the faculty strong.

Mr. DOZIER

George G. Dozier, A.B., M.A.
University of North Carolina
Assistant Principal for Instruction

MR. VALOTTO

Mr. Arthur Valotto
West Virginia University
B.A., M.A.

ASSISTANT TO PRINCIPAL

Mr. Valotto has been at Madison only one year, yet he has become an active participant in our school life. In addition to his administrative responsibilities, he has devoted much of his time as sponsor of the Student Council. His ability to make decisions and to act with determination has done much to keep the crowded program at Madison operating smoothly and efficiently.

Guidance Department

Harriet Ried, A.B., M.A.
Director of Guidance

With the ever growing school program there always accompanies an increase in the demands upon the services of the guidance department.

The pleasant and helpful atmosphere, the advice readily offered, and the assistance freely given aid students in planning for the future and make our guidance department a vital force in our school program.

Athletic Department

Norman S. Chaudet, B.S., M.A.
Athletic Director

The importance of a good athletic program to a school has long been accepted in education. The very spirit of the school reflects such a program.

At Madison under the administration of Mr. Chaudet our Health and Physical Education program tries to give every student the opportunity to enjoy some phase of athletic participation.

Cafeteria Staff

The friendly atmosphere, cleanliness, and good wholesome food served to Madison students by your cafeteria staff gives a pleasant and healthful break to the routine of the day. Under the supervision of Mrs. Branner, this group performs its daily task with smoothness and efficiency.

Custodians

Those connected with James Madison can always walk into our school with the assurance that they will find a building clean and well kept. Our custodians under the supervision of Mr. Jones take great pride in doing an excellent job. Their willingness to be helpful makes our tasks easier.

CLASSES

The Class of '63 completed its fourth and final year of high school with feelings of mingled happiness, sorrow, anxiety, and expectation. The future beckoned brightly to the Seniors, though a bit uncertainly, while the past waved to them through pleasant and comfortable memories of high school adventures.

Old friends to be forgotten for new, familiar surroundings to be left for unknown, habitual high school life to be traded for the unfamiliar college, military, or office life; thoughts of these impending experiences united the Class of '63 as never before. Strong through its unity, the class successfully sponsored the Alumni Game, sold Senior Class pins, and mounted a large copy of the honor code in the cafeteria. At the same time, it planned Senior Night and practiced repeatedly for Graduation Ceremonies.

Thus, with one foot in the past and the other in the future, members of the Senior Class straddled the very crossroads of adventure.

The Senior Class Council consists of one elected student representative from each government class, all class officers, and all class sponsors. The Council discusses important issues concerning the class, contributes ideas for Senior projects and sees that all class activities are successfully completed. In addition, the Council acts as a go-between in student, faculty, and administration relations.

After three years of high school experience, the Class of '64 viewed its Junior year as the threshold of an entirely new and different adventure. With the opening of school in September, the Juniors assumed the hazardous status of "upper classmen" along with its demanding requirements of leadership and responsibility.

Members of the Class of '64 met the challenge with a spirit of unmatched enthusiasm and enterprise. Volunteer workers, rotating shifts on the morning Breakfast Club, demonstrated the advantage of complete class participation in the success of a project; dramatically inclined Juniors contributed their acting talents to the class play, while others sold countless tickets to insure its financial success; and, with equal determination and dispatch, the class worked together to create an enjoyable, memorable prom.

These concerted class efforts, along with the shared experience of standardized tests, college selection, and planning for the future, united the Class of '64 and made its Junior year an unforgettable adventure.

SOPHOMORES

Returning once more to familiar surroundings, Sophomores oriented themselves quickly. Adventure mingled with hard work marked the Sophomore year at Madison. Closely unified by class activities, the Sophomores completed a number of projects. The "Sophomore Night" program combined political and social activities by conducting class business and holding a dance afterwards. Planning already for next year's Prom, the Class of '65 raised money by sponsoring the traditional "Pizza Panic".

With the conclusion of this year, Sophomores have reached the half-way point in high school. Thus, with a sense of previous accomplishment already behind, this year's Sophomore Class can look forward to wider horizons of learning and adventure.

FRESHMEN

Most Freshman Class members will never forget the exciting challenge of this first year, signifying both an end to their high school introduction and, more importantly, the beginning of a wonderful new adventure. Freshmen became an integral part of Madison by engaging in club and sport activities, and participating enthusiastically in all school projects.

The Class of '66 assumed the responsibilities and rigors of high school, striving constantly in both academic and extracurricular activities and adjusting quickly to the routine of work, worry, and wonder. At last Freshmen can cast off the dubious title of "grubs" and thrust themselves into higher ranks. Anticipating the three remaining years at Madison with pleasure, The Class of '66 is looking forward to what the future holds in store.

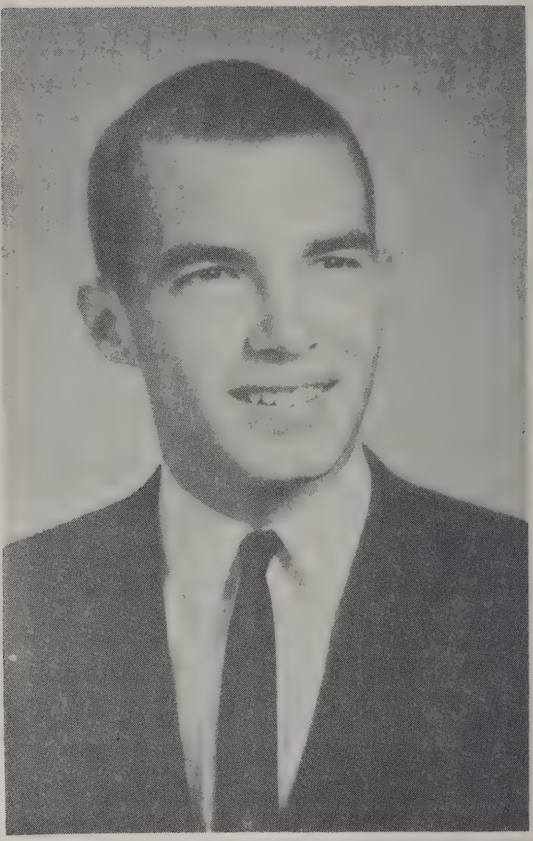
ORGANIZATIONS

NASC
STUDENT COUNCIL



Francis Gordon
President

Student Cooperative Association

Mr. Valotto
Sponsor

All students registered at James Madison are members of the Student Cooperative Association. As active S.C.A. members, all work to promote close faculty-student-community relations.

This year the S.C.A. accomplished much in bettering these relationships. It sponsored the Student Handbook, the program for orientation of new students, the Leadership Training Program, International Week, the Welfare Drive, the Magazine Drive, and several school dances. In addition, it was an active promoter of the school "Aid to Pakistan" program.

The S.C.A. exists also as a student exercise in self-government. The legislative branch of the S.CA., the Student Council, is composed of student-elected home-room representatives, class officers, club presidents, and S.C.A. officers as well as an appointed cabinet. The Student Council helps to regulate school activities and is a direct line of communication between the student body and the faculty.

Steve Klare, Treasurer; Terrie Hazard, Secretary; Penny Gottlieb, Vice President.

OFFICERS

Organizing and conducting Student Council meetings are two major functions of the SCA Executive Officers. These officers are elected by the student body and they direct the promotion of better student-faculty relations.

CABINET

Industry, enthusiasm, and diligence are only a few of the qualities of the SCA Cabinet. This group, composed of student officers and all chairmen of the Standing Committees, discusses and prepares issues to be presented to the Student Council.

1st Row: Sharon Johnson, Steve Marica, Gwen Blackwell, Jeff Glenn, Paula Tebben, Don Lemons, Ken Vickery, Pat Aamodt, Marge Gill, Vivian Crater, Sandy Roussow

CLASS REPRESENTATIVES

The group of S.C.A. representatives is composed of homeroom and class presidents. Each of these elected officers attends all S.C.A. meetings and there conveys the ideas and viewpoints of the students whom he represents. Similarly each representative reports back to the students all decisions and business carried out in the S.C.A. meetings. Thus, through the representative body of the S.C.A. each and every student attending Madison has a voice in student government.

CLUB PRESIDENTS

Representing the various interests of their activity groups, Club Presidents play an important role in S.C.A. legisltion. Whereas homeroom representatives reflect the broad opinion of the students as a congregate, the ideas of Club Presidents emphasize the interests and desires of a particular organization. Thus special activities other than school-time programs can influence the S.C.A. through the representative action of the Club Presidents.

HAWK TALK

Douglas Mills, Sports Editor; Peggy Hahn, Feature Editor; Anne Blatchford, News Editor; Paul Ingram, Club Editor.

Long hours of work, experienced editors, staff of writers, and an untiring sponsor has added up to a school newspaper for which we can be proud. Hawk Talk has received recognition in several literary contests during the few years of her existence. Excellent coverage of school events has been repeated in her many publications.

1st Row: Editorial Assistants: Bill Davis, Skip Hill, Steve Pond
2nd Row: Cartoonists: Larry Perlman, Paul Koehn
3rd Row: Typists: Sandy Reussow, Laura Decker

HAWK TALK ASSISTANT EDITORS

Hawk Talk assistants are especially helpful the night that the paper goes to bed. They assist the editors in all sorts of odd but necessary jobs. They rotate positions so that they are able to study all aspects of the newspaper.

HERITAGE is the school's literary magazine. The two issues printed this year have consisted solely of literary works of Madison students. Much hard work and planning went into the two issues.

In addition to the magazine itself, the staff conducted a creative writing contest in the autumn. In order to honor the students whose work was accepted for publication, the staff conducted a Literary Tea on December 20, 1962.

PUBLICATION BUSINESS STAFF

The Business Staff of James Madison has charge of the finance, circulation, and advertising for all school publications.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Anglin, this group has worked hard and efficiently in promoting and distributing our publications.

With equal determination, the staff met the additional responsibility of financing our school yearbook.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Almost daily our photographers covered some school activity. Interest has been added to this section of our yearbook because of the work and enthusiasm of this group.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Mrs. Donohoe
Sponsor

Quill and Scroll is a literary honorary society of national standing. The members have distinguished themselves on one of Madison's two publication staffs by exceptionally hard work and devotion.

Along with the Honor Society, Quill and Scroll sponsored a scholarship fund for deserving Madison graduates. In order to raise the funds necessary, the society published a student directory.

WIG AND ROUGE

The Wig and Rouge Club of James Madison High School sponsored various plays through the year plus the J.M.H.S. Follies of '63. This club organized The Theatre Guild which enabled many students to attend plays such as "Showboat" and "Julius Caesar." Through the production of school plays and The Theatre Guild, the club increased appreciation of the dramatic arts.

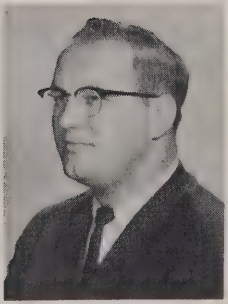
DEBATE TEAM



Mr. Strohm
Sponsor

The James Madison High School Debate Team, composed of four highly skilled varsity debaters, established a very creditable record for itself this year. The overall team record in the Northern Virginia Debate League was 13-3, entitling Madison to first place in the overall school rankings. Both the Affirmative and the Negative teams participated in the Northern Virginia Tournament, an accomplishment not equalled by any of the other 16 high schools in this area.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The AFS Club, newly formed this year, actively promoted interest in the American Field Service student exchange program. By selling corsages at football games and sponsoring a dance and horseshow, the club helped raise funds to bring a student from a foreign country to James Madison High School.

Traudi Arnold, an honorary club member and this year's exchange student from Germany, was our constant reminder of the great rewards and satisfactions received by those who work for the AFS.

GERMAN CLUB

This spring the Wiener Club took a Wanderung (long hike) for miles by a nearby body of water. On this hike the club had one meal.

As in accordance with last year's event, the Weiner Club continued its annual affair, the Fasching Party. This party occurred shortly before Lent and was done in full German style.

This year the Wiener Club was fortunate enough to have as one of its members Traudie Arnold, the A.F.S. Student from Germany. Traudie provided an excellent opportunity for the other members of the club to learn about Germany's customs, traditions, and feelings.

During the course of the year, the club saw many movies about different parts of life and living in Germany. Some titles are: Munich, Bremen, (Schluessel zur Welt), The Wall (USIA film about Berlin's Wall), and "Revolt in Berlin."

Mr. Kenneth Yohe

Mr. Yohe, Madison's Band Director, led our band in many activities this year. Under his excellent direction, our band furnished us with many half-time shows and did much to promote school spirit. His hard work on the J.M.H.S. Follies of '63 was one of the major contributing factors that made the show such a success.

During the beginning of the school year, the Warhawk Marching Band thrilled Madison audiences with a series of colorful half-time Football Shows dramatizing how the Band would "Flit" the Herndon Hornets, smash the "Secret Weapon" of Fairfax, etc. Mr. Yohe and the Band also introduced a new style of precision marching which kept the Band Members as well as the audience on their toes.

After a successful season of Football Shows, the Band turned its attention to the rapidly approaching Concert Season, combining their efforts with the Chorus to present this year's Christmas Concert, highlighted with Sam Cotten's reading of "'Twas the Night Before Christmas" with the Band.

During the latter part of December and the beginning of January, Mr. Yohe and 30 Band Members known as The Pitt Band occupied themselves with the music from this year's Follies '63. "Slaughter on Tenth Ave.," "Rhapsody in Blue" with Bob Shafer on piano, tunes from current Broadway Musicals dressed up in special arrangements by Mr. Yohe were a few of the show's musical highlights.

February began with the Band sending 8 of its most outstanding Members to the annual Northern Virginia All-State Band. The Band presented a "Pops" concert featuring Broadway tunes, old standards and some Big Band Jazz at Madison as well as a special concert at Thoreau Intermediate School. February's activities were rounded off with the George Washington Parade at Alexandria, Virginia.

During the month of March, the band was busy indeed preparing for an appearance at their assembly program at The Band Festival held this year at Hammond High School, where they did a fine job performing a concert of grade V difficulty. The month came to a close with most of the band's members performing at the solo and ensemble section of the Festival. The Concert Band gladly welcomed the coming of Spring after a difficult and busy winter with their annual Spring Concert.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Varsity Cheerleaders serve the school in many ways. They work behind the scenes by selling ads and making the layout for the Football program, and also by selling tickets during lunch shifts for games.

The school spirit and the support of the teams by the student body is largely determined by the leadership of this high moraled group.

The Warhawks kicked off another winning year with upset victories over Herndon and Fairfax. The hapless Hornets received a sound 47-0 drubbing in the opening game, and Madison's lightning offense crushed Fairfax by two touchdowns. During these first two games, the Hawks racked up a convincing 61 points while holding their opponents scoreless. The strong defensive line, led by Tony Bennett and Larry Merricks, completely handcuffed the opposing offensive units. Favorites for the first time, the Warhawks fulfilled all expectations and trounced J.E.B. Stuart 28-6. Madison's victory string was snapped by Groveton 13-21 as the Warhawk squad narrowly missed their fourth consecutive win. Rebounding slowly from this loss, the Hawks dropped their next game against Lee by one point. Now Madison returned to the winning streak with three victories against Yorktown, Wakefield, and Falls Church. The Patriots seized a narrow half-time lead, then succumbed 13-8 when the Warhawks vaulted ahead with a second-half spurt. Madison's bruising fullback Arlyn Powell scored twice against Wakefield as he smashed through the Warrior line for long yardage.

Against Falls Church, the Hawk offensive unit hit paydirt with a last quarter run by Bill Bines. The staunch defensive line smothered the Jaguar's final scoring attempt, and the Warhawks rolled to a 7-0 shutout victory. Clashing with Annandale in the mud and cold, Madison eked out a tie with the powerful Atoms. Only minutes remained when quarterback Bob Rupp's pass found Bill Bines wide open, evening the score at 13-13. Rising to the occasion the defensive unit slapped down a desperation aerial blitz by the Atoms to preserve the tie. The final tilt with Madison's traditional rival McLean was strictly a defensive battle. A sparkling 80-yard jaunt by the Hawks' speedy halfback, Ronnie Glaze, highlighted the gruelling contest which also ended in a tie 6-6. During the season, the Warhawks amassed a total of 165 points as compared to only 68 for their opponents. The fine spirit and strong determination helped the Warhawks turn in another fine season at Madison with their excellent 6-2-2 football record.

Players receiving special recognition were: Tony Bennett, most valuable player; Ronnie Glaze, best offensive player; Leroy Rinker, best defensive player; Bill Bines, most improved back; Miles Honnicut, most improved lineman, and David Conrad, coaches award.

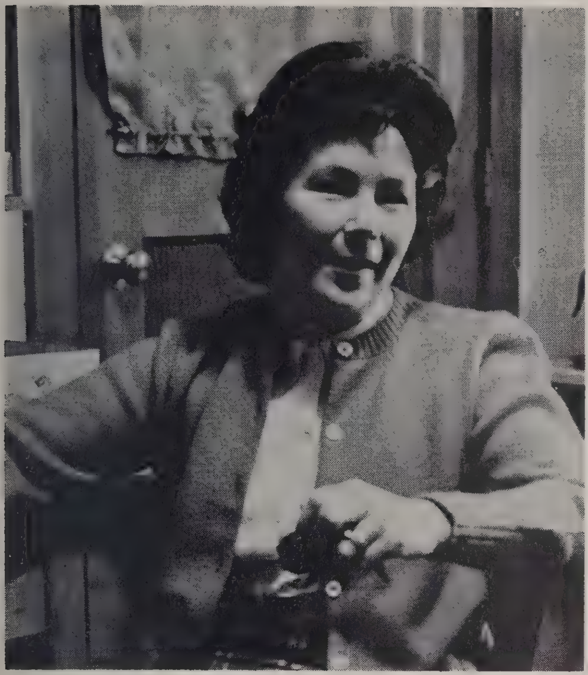
GOLF

Golf at Madison, although represented by a small group, has shown an excellence of performance. Under the coaching of Mr. Smith, this year's team has demonstrated great interest and skill in this game.

Jim Strigman, Carl Edmonds, Stephen Edwards, Lennie Shrank, John Tiller, Jim Jens, Tom Sager.



Mrs. Milbourn has contributed much to the extra-curricular school life of Madison. This past year she was coach of varsity hockey and under her skillful leadership the team enjoyed a successful year. She is also the coordinator of girls' intramurals. It is through her planning that Madison's schedules are formulated. Madison has gained a lot from, and owes a lot to, a fine coach with great ability.

GIRLS SPORTS

Girls' athletics are an integral phase of extra-curricular activity at James Madison for they provide energetic relief from school work and study as well as challenging adventures in teamwork and sportsmanship. This year through scrimmage and through contests with teams from other schools the girls experienced excitement of competition. In addition, the girls gain from athletics the necessity of cooperation in achieving their best.

These hockey girls seem to be engaged in a furious battle with their competitors for the puck.

VARSITY HOCKEY

Elaine Hatcher, Pat Brook
Managers

A strong feeling of team unity was the largest contributing factor to the Varsity hockey girls' successful season. Working together smoothly and efficiently the team demonstrated its skill with unusual consistency. Through the able assistance and understanding of Mrs. Milbourn, the fast forward line and the fighting defense brought the team an excellent record of three wins, two ties, and three losses.

Players who received recognition were: Alice Duncan and Frances Kitchen as outstanding players and Gail Sines, as most improved player.

JUNIOR VARSITY HOCKEY

The Junior Varsity hockey team matched the Varsity with a shining 3-2-1 season. Full of pep and spirit the girls gave each other cheering support on the field and played every game as though there would never be another. Whether lugging hockey cages, running laps, trying to out-shine the Varsity, or stuffing at Giffords, the J.V.'s demonstrated their diverse abilities and championship potential.

ACTIVITIES

Sue Chadwick, Dick Stewart, Vivian Crater, and Pat Aamodt work together to fill a box with textbooks to be shipped to Pakistan. Among materials sent were several hundred children's books.

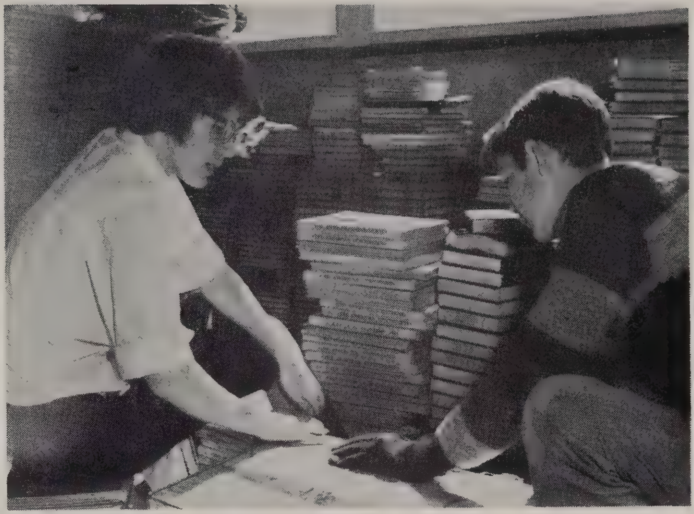
BOOKS FOR PAKISTAN

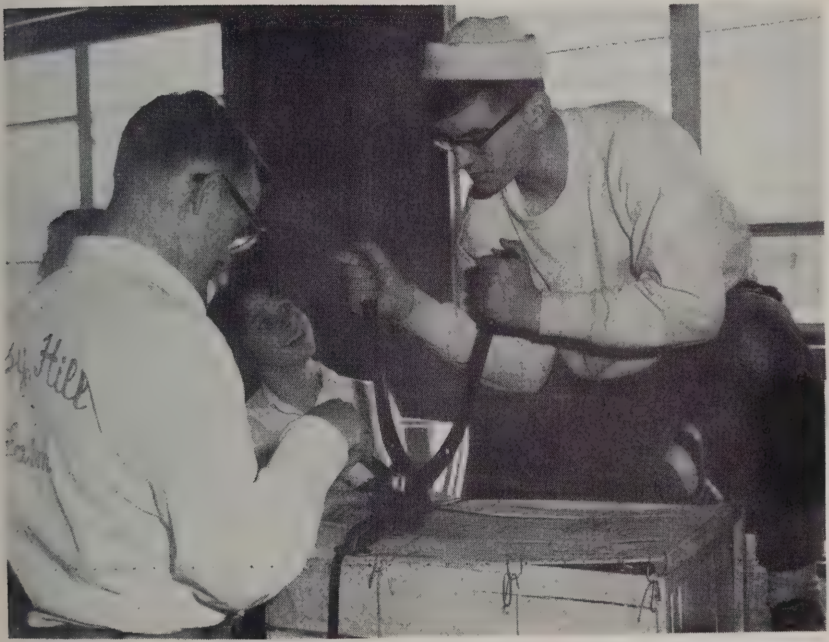
In an effort to share our educational adventures with the underprivileged people of another land, we, the students of James Madison, adopted Pakistan as a "Sister Nation," supplying it with pencils, paper, and textbooks.

"I like both the gift and the giver. And I like the spontaneous expression from the heart which brought you together . . ."

With these words, U. S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson voiced both approval and admiration for the four-year project inspired by the visit of Pakistani camel driver Bashir Ahmed to Madison in October, 1961.

Packaging materials for Pakistani school students are Melinda Wilson and David Roberts. Considerable time was spent in making plans for carrying out the project of book collection.





Banding boxes are Joseph Childress and Charles Sommer, who were assigned the work of packaging supplies for Pakistani students.

At ceremonies in the Vice President's office in the Capitol, samples of the books were formally presented to Aziz Ahmed, Pakistani Ambassador to the United States. He told the students that he was "deeply moved at this very heart-warming gesture that you made to the students of my country. This is truly a people-to-people gift."

Students of James Madison High School devoted several hours of their leisure collecting books and packing them along with other school supplies for the students in Pakistan.

In May, 1962, the books and other supplies were loaded on board the U.S.S. Greenwich in Norfolk, Virginia, for shipment to Pakistan. Here, in a ceremony commemorating the occasion, the Greenwich's captain presents the seal of his ship to Madison's assistant principal, Mr. Dozier, while student representatives Debby Colony and Bill Varney look on.

BOOKS FOR PAKISTAN
S Greenw

Loading the first box of books on board ship are Madison students Suzanne Smith and Bill Varney. When loading was completed the total shipment weighed 18,100 pounds.

...JOURNEY'S END

Upon arrival in Pakistan in November, 1962, the books were uncrated and presented by U. S. Ambassador Walter P. McConaughy to Dr. A. C. S. Gilani, Director of Education, Karachi. Attending the ceremony were Bashir Ahmed, Vice President Johnson's famous Pakistani guest whose visit to the U. S. inspired the project, and 15-year-old Martha Rees, daughter of the Assistant Director for Program, U.S.A.I.D. Mission to Pakistan and former student of James Madison, who represented the Madison student body in Pakistan. Left to Right: Dr. Gilani, Bashir Ahmed, Capt. Daniel M. THE FOLLIES

Several Madison students try a little hula dancing.

The 1963 Madison Follies was an exceptionally fine production. Under the generous guidance of Mr. Pete Jamerson, Mr. Mack, choreographer, and Mr. Yohe, musical conductor, the students rehearsed patiently and gave a truly talented performance. Madison High School is grateful to Mr. Jamerson, in particular, for his selfless contribution of time and undivided interest in making the production a success.

Kaye Fontana and Randy Pence remain completely "stiff" through Butler's Gavotte.

"Did he ever return?" sings the Wayward trio — John Romberg, Don Ranard, and Joe Boland, with Tom Tawney on Bass.

GLUTTONS

Science students from Madison leave the Naval Observatory on one of many field trips.

Madison students have enjoyed many types of activities throughout the year. These activities stimulated much student interest in the school social life. Class projects and field trips have provided great opportunities for our students in broadening their knowledge of the community and county. Parties and dances sponsored by classes and school clubs made up a well-rounded social life and enjoyment for all.

Senior Bill Johnson experiments with a water pump in physics as Steve Glenn and Dennis Gerrity watch.

ADVERTISEMENTS

THE BLUE RIDGE PRESS

Berryville, Virginia

Bob Moore and Roxi Redmond try to decide where a picture is to be used in the yearbook before it is sent to be printed at the Blue Ridge Press in Berryville, Virginia.

This is the second year James Madison has had its yearbook printed at this establishment and, as can be seen, an exceptionally fine annual was turned out again. The Blue Ridge Press not only printed the entire book, but also contributed much information and assistance which improved this year's edition of the MONTPELIER immeasurably.

CHEVROLET TRUCK

Jim McKay Chevrolet

608 University Drive

Fairfax, Virginia

Tony Bennett has definitely decided that this is the car for Connie Ellis. Smiling Jim McKay has a Chevrolet that will suit your taste and pocketbook. It's just a short drive to the Jim McKay hill in Fairfax and the best car in town.

Jim McKay has a very wide selection of autos and it is usually the case that you never have to order a car and wait for several weeks.

The used cars on the McKay hill are the finest 'OK' used cars in the area. They have been checked and repaired so you will be driving one of the finest cars in Northern Virginia.

ALLYN'S MEN'S SHOP

224 Maple Avenue W.

Vienna, Virginia

Peachy Peck and Tom Quam have decided this pair of loafers is just what the best dressed man should wear. Tom believes that the service and selection at Allyn's Men Shop is certainly the best. The shop offers everything from ties to formal wear rental.

The personnel at Allyn's is always glad to serve the gentlemen of Madison in their clothing needs. For fun or formal, Allyn's is the shop for you.

KETTERMAN'S

116 Maple Avenue

Vienna, Virginia

Mickey Hanlon seems to have pleased Sena Bowden in his choice of a necklace for her. These two probably could spend an entire evening in Ketterman's Jewelry just viewing all the new and varied merchandise.

The stock in costume jewelry is fantastic and certainly beautiful. A diamond is a girl's best friend, and Ketterman's is certainly the diamond buyer's friend. The display of diamonds is both reasonable and just what one would cherish all his life.

The gifts and jewelry are beyond compare and can meet any need for home or gift.

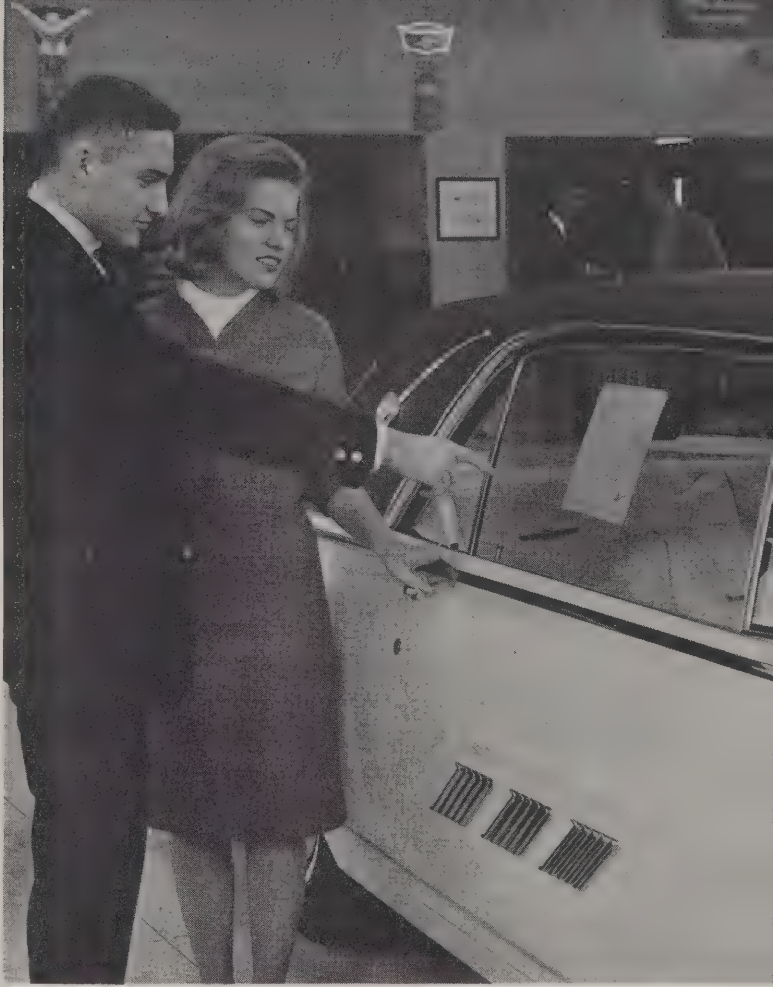
Worthington's Gift Shop

113 Church Street

Vienna, Virginia

Sue Hanney and David Gapp are fascinated by all the varied and wonderful gifts that are to be found in Worthington's Gift Shop. This unique shop offers anything that your imagination might come up with. One is not sure whether it is a fairyland or a real gift shop.

Worthington's can meet any of your requests from books, candles, or artificial grapes. Just visiting this beautiful shop is an experience everyone should have.



Ted Britt Ford Sales, Inc.

300 W. Lee Highway

Fairfax, Virginia

"The sweetest little T-bird
That Fairfax ever knew.
Big Ford trucks and Galaxies,
Falcons, Fairlanes, too!"

Yes, Ted Britt Ford of Fairfax offers any one of the fine Ford cars at prices far below those of other Washington area dealers. And, Ted Britt offers the best service in town, with his service department open every night 'til midnight.

Laura Decker and Ray Cybulski are finding that Ted Britt offers to them the deals which he is widely famous for.

VIENNA CYCLE SHOP

124 Maple Avenue W.

Vienna, Virginia

You'd look sweet upon the seat of a bicycle built for two . : . or any other type of bicycle which your heart desires from Vienna Cycle Shop is Bob Rupp's song to Pat Redmond. The Cycle Shop offers the finest bicycles in the area with on the spot bike repairs.

If you are more inclined toward indoor recreation, the Cycle Shop offers many hobby materials. The selection varies from model airplanes to model Draculas.

Whether indoors or out the Vienna Cycle Shop can meet your every need.

Normford's Style Shop

331 Maple Avenue E.

Vienna, Virginia

"What could this be?" inquires Tom Bass as Pat Aamodt excitedly opens the box. Well, whatever interests them only Pat and Tom will ever know what it is. They both realize, however, that it is one of the fine quality items found at Normford's, dealers in men's apparel. For suits, coats, pants, shirts, and other fine men's wear Normford's Style Shop is the place to go.

MILLER AND WRENN FURNITURE COMPANY

127 Maple Avenue W.
Vienna, Virginia

Jane Smith and Dick Stewart seemed to both agree this picture is just lovely. They seem to be in accordance with all the beautiful furniture that is to be found in Miller and Wrenn Furniture Company.

The Vienna shop specializes in the colonial styles. But if your tastes tend toward the modernistic style of furniture, the Miller and Wrenn Company has a store Falls Church that will cater to your needs.

The furniture needs of your family and friends always come first at Miller and Wrenn Furniture Company.

We, the Montpelier staff, wish to express our sincere appreciation to all who have helped in the publishing of this yearbook. We owe special gratitude to Lamont and Alston Studios and the James Madison Photography Club for their generous effort in capturing pictorially outstanding adventures of the school year. Our deepest gratitude goes to our advertisers who have supported us and to all who have made this book possible.

ALMA MATER

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater!
We are loyal, proud, and true.
We wave the flag of spirit
In a tribute to you.

And to those who will come after
May you always sing our song.
We pass the torch of learning,
Keep it ever burning strong.

We strive to do our best,
Let bravery never rest,
Our colors have a lesson to be told —
Be strong and be sincere,
Have courage; never fear
The Red, the Black, the White, our colors bold . . .

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater!
Ever in our memory,
The school we'll always cherish:
Madison, hail to thee!
